Meru: The Astrology Atlas

Every path. One mountain.

Meru is an astrology app for people who want the whole picture. One birth chart is read through 39 traditions at once: Western and Vedic astrology, Chinese and Korean astrology, Human Design, numerology, tarot, the Maya Tzolk'in, the I Ching, the Enneagram, the seven chakras and more. When separate traditions say the same thing about a person, Meru points it out. It draws the whole chart as one piece of art, in three styles, with every tradition as its own layer. Every chart is calculated on the person's own device by Meru's own code, using the Astronomy Engine library and NASA JPL data, and anyone can open the math behind a number. Meru is for reflection and growth; it makes no medical, legal or financial claims.

A Celestial Mandala, drawn from a made-up test chart.

Fact sheet

Name	Meru: The Astrology Atlas
Line	Every path. One mountain.
What it does	Reads one birth chart through 39 traditions at once and draws it as the person's own art (three styles: Celestial Mandala, Soulscape and Luminous Body). Daily guidance (Today), good days for a plan (Right Time), readings for couples, families and teams (Together), and Show the Math on every number.
Platforms	The web at meru.love, on any phone or computer. The iPhone and Android apps are coming soon.
On the web since	17 November 2026
Languages	12: English, Spanish, Portuguese (Brazil), French, German, Italian, Chinese (Simplified), Hindi, Arabic, Japanese, Korean and Russian.
Price	Free to start: 8 free calculators, a daily horoscope and a daily sky email. A free 7-day trial with no card. Membership $14.99 a month, $129 a year or $499 once. Readings from $29; the full reading (about 340 pages) is $119.
Privacy	Charts are calculated on the person's own device. Birth details stay on the device unless the person chooses to share them. No ads; nothing about anyone is sold or shared for advertising.
AI	No AI runs the Meru app: no chatbot answers you, and your chart is calculated by code. Meru's texts were written by our team with the help of AI, under the founder's direction.
Calculations	Meru's own engine, built on the Astronomy Engine library (MIT licence) and NASA JPL data.
For practitioners	Astrologers and practitioners can join as Merologists and work with their clients' charts, when the clients choose to share them.
Company	Only Love LLC d/b/a Meru, a Florida limited liability company, Miami, Florida, USA.
Founder	Jason Kremser, founder

Press contact

press@meru.love · meru.love/press (logos, screenshots, images and this sheet). For reflection and growth; Meru makes no medical, legal or financial claims.